3 次の英文を読んで、問いに答えなさい。

Here are the instructions for next weekend's camping trip. There are seventeen people going on this trip. We are ①(plan) to leave the meeting point at eight in the morning, so it's important for you to arrive there ten minutes earlier. When you get there, you will see two mini buses. Please check the notice board to find ②(take / you / bus / which / should). When everyone ③(be) there, we will all get on the bus.

It will take about three and a half hours ④(to get) to the camping site, so please bring your lunch with you. We will stop at a service area ⑤() the () to the site and you can have lunch there. Also some food shops are at the service area. So, if you don't bring your lunch, you can buy something ⑥(to eat). But please remember that we don't have enough time ⑦(to buy) food if the area is very crowded.

When you arrive at the camping site, your group leaders will welcome you. They went on this trip last year, so they know a lot about the camping area. Each group leader has a list of the group members. When your name is ⑧(call), go to your group leader and say hello. If you have any problems during this camping trip, you should always go to your group leader to ⑨()() help.

⑩(We (to / all groups / dinner / cook / want). So, before setting up tents, we will go to the local supermarket. Your group leader will ask you what you want to cook. How about bringing your favorite recipe? You will cook outside, so bring an easy one.

One more thing about this trip. Your phones will not work at the camping area because we will be far away from the town. So you must tell your parents about ⑪(this). You may be able to use your phones when we are in the town, but not while camping.

That's all the information for now. If you have any other questions, please send us an e-mail. We look forward to seeing you next weekend!

4 次の英文は、カモノハシ(platypus)に関するものです。読んで問いに答えなさい。

Do you know the platypus? It is a very unique and interesting mammal. It is covered with brown hair but it has a beak. It lays eggs but looks after its babies with milk. This strange but cute animal lives in Australia.

The platypus spends most of its life in the water, so its legs have webs. It swims well by using only its front legs. It can stay under the water for about fifteen minutes without breathing. On the other hand, it uses four legs when it walks on the ground. The platypus is not only good at swimming but is also good at walking on the ground. If the water around its nest is not clean or it cannot find enough food around there, it walks on the ground and finds a new place to live in.

The beak of the platypus is soft and looks like that of a duck. The platypus uses it not only to eat food but also to find food. Because its beak works as a sensory organ, the platypus doesn't need to open its eyes in the water to look for food.

To lay eggs, a female platypus builds her nest near the water. She digs a hole, puts fallen leaves in it and lays her eggs there. A female platypus lays one to three eggs each year. She lies on the leaves and holds the eggs between her body and her tail. When she needs to leave the hole, she covers the entrance of the hole with mud to protect her eggs from snakes, foxes or crocodiles. The eggs hatch in about ten days and the mother takes care of her babies for three to four months until they can swim by themselves.

There is something interesting about the male platypus. They have stings on their back legs and the stings contain poison. The stings are used to fight against dangerous animals. The poison is strong enough to kill small animals. If the sting touches us, we will feel severe pain for a long time.

You can find the platypus in many areas in Australia. Remember that the platypus usually moves around at night. So if you want to see it in the wild, you should go and find it early in the morning or just before sunset. If the water is clean enough, you can see a platypus swimming there.

(注) mammal 哺乳類 beak くちばし lay eggs 卵を産む web 水かき
breathe 呼吸する nest 巣 duck アヒル sensory organ 感覚器官 female メス dig a hole 穴を掘る lie 横になる mud 泥 crocodile ワニ
